Pia Singh

Freelance Content Writer | Graphic Designer
Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh, India

Summary

Creative arts like writing and animation have always been my forte. I've always had an eye out for any reading material, be it an article, a story, or even an occasional research paper that catches my interest.

Currently, I'm an Electrical Engineering student in my pre-final year at The Institute Of Engineering and Technology (IET) Lucknow. Here, I strive to gain practical knowledge and experience in my field of study by means of various labs, projects, and internships.

While tackling my studies, I also work as a freelance content writer for various websites such as Chegg and Tata Communications. This gives me a sense of independence and professionalism as I work towards enhancing my technical skills.

I would love to connect and discuss any growth opportunities.
